MENTOR - The Lake County Council on Aging wants to remind Lake County residents that heating assistance is available this winter to eligible households through the Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP). The Council on Aging offers free support to Lake County seniors and adults with disabilities to better understand and apply for the popular federally funded program.

HEAP is administered by the Ohio Development Services Agency and helps eligible Ohioans meet the high costs of home heating. If determined eligible, a one-time HEAP benefit will appear as a credit applied to the energy bill by the utility company (or fuel vendor).

"We want to educate more seniors and adults with disabilities about the program and assist them with applying," said Alyea Barajas, director of the Lake County Aging and Disability Resource Center. "HEAP is an important part of our mission to support the members of our community most in need."

The Lake County Council on Aging has staff available to help individuals understand the program guidelines, assist with the application process, and provide follow-up assistance. Program information is provided by telephone, walk-in, or email. Application assistance is available at the Council on Aging office located at 8520 East Ave., Mentor. In-home appointments are available to homebound seniors and disabled adults who need help with the application process.

To set up an appointment or to receive an application by mail, call the agency at (440) 205-8111 or email info@lccoa.org.

Assistance available to purchase prescriptions

CONCORD - There is help for residents of Ohio who live in Lake or Geauga counties who have trouble affording their prescription medicine.

The Prescription Assistance Program operates a pharmacy which is under the direction of a licensed pharmacist. It also has a health counselor that will help people find their medicine at a lower cost if the medicine is not in their inventory.

The health counselor may help find affordable eye glasses, dental care, registering for the Affordable Care Act and Home Care Services.

Prescription Assistance Program of Lake and Geauga County is a not-for-profit program sponsored and supported by the United Way of Lake, United Way of Geauga County, Lake County General Health District, Around the Clock Home Care and Home Care of Lake County.

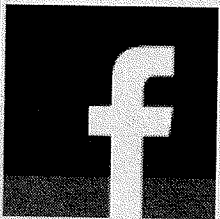

Every month thousands of dollars worth of prescription medicines are destroyed by the Prescription Assistance's pharmacy because they go unused. Each month there are those in Lake and Geauga counties who must make a decision to either buy their medicine for their health or food for the family. This is especially true during the holiday season.

The program is working with agencies in Ashtabula County in an effort to make the program available there.

Call the Lake and Geauga County Prescription Assistance pharmacy at (440) 352-1999 and ask for Dawn Nickerson.

A group of dedicated volunteers from RSVP and others provide the backbone to the operation of the pharmacy. Each month thousands of dollars of medication are donated to the Prescription Assistance program. These medicines are sorted and placed in inventory by the volunteers.
